DISCUSSION QUESTIONS

Ring
by André Alexis
Coach House Books

1. Would you want to own the ring in Ring? Is it a gift or a curse?
2. This is a very literary book, but it's fun to see Alexis playing with some romance genre tropes - did any stick out to you in particular?
3. How does the idea of family - given and found - play into some of the characters' actions in the book?
4. This book has a lot to chew on - the characters lapse into discussions about philosophy, art, religion, and, of course, love - but it's also very funny. What moments in the novel took you by surprise in that way?
5. Was there a particular setting in Ring that you wanted to visit (or revisit)?
6. Who's read the other books in the André Alexis quincunx? What connections or surprises did you find between the books?
7. BONUS: Tell us about a family tradition or heirloom that was (or will be) passed to you.
